Barbie Land Trivia

- ♥ The first Barbie doll debuted in 1959.
- ★ As Barbie, Margot Robbie never wears any rings on her fingers – a nod to the classic doll with connected fingers that don't accommodate rings.
- ♥ Barbie's full name is Barbara Millicent Roberts, named after Mattel cofounder Ruth Handler's own daughter.
- ★ At its launch, Barbie was the first non-baby doll on the market.
- ♥ The role of Ken in Greta Gerwig's Barbie was written specifically for Ryan Gosling.
- ★ Greta Gerwig and Noah Baumbach wrote the screenplay during the global COVID-19 pandemic.
- ♥ There are no solid black or white colors in any of the Barbie Land sets.
- ★ Barbie's convertible was operated by remote control, enabling Margot Robbie's Barbie to "drive" hands-free around the set.
- ♥ The film has nods to classic films such as 2001: A Space Odyssey (1968) and Midnight Cowboy (1969).
- ★ Margot Robbie did all her own stunts, including jumping from the top of the house.

Mojo Dojo Bingo

Print 2 copies of the Bingo Caller's Card. Cut one of the copies up, fold the pieces in half, and place them in a hat or bowl. Call Bingo by pulling a square from the hat and reading it out loud.

Once you've called a word or phrase, cross it out on the other copy of the Caller's Card. The second copy can also be used to check if a player has a winning card.
